Additional Information

Continuous Learning & Skill Development: During my internship and experience as a Tele-Sales Executive, I consistently invested time in enhancing my technical skills. I upskilled myself in React.js by learning modern concepts, best practices, and new updates while building multiple hands-on projects using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React. This practical experience strengthened my front-end development skills and problem-solving abilities. I am a quick learner who enjoys adapting to new technologies, continuously improving my knowledge, and applying it to real-world projects.
